

A glamorous glimpse of the facts and figures behind Tiffany & Co.'s newest Blue Book Collection, BOTANICA. Fascinating details abound.

Taking inspiration from Tiffany & Co.'s enduring heritage of innovation, the House has created a collection of contemporary high jewelry studded with world-class gemstones and diamonds, revealed in the Spring 2022 Blue Book Collection, BOTANICA. Tiffany flawlessly showcases its extraordinary craftsmanship in this latest lush landscape of jewels. The designs of the collection evoke natural themes from Tiffany's history, a reflection of exquisite detail and reverence for the past.

An artisan replicated orchid blooms in platinum, embellishing each with round rose-cut, modified rose-cut and round sparkling diamonds. The thistle, an additional theme, snakes wildly into a burst of intricately enchanting jewels. To recreate the angular shapes of thistles, trillion-cut gemstones were set by hand at perfect angles. Other themes interwoven into the pieces reimagine floral motifs deeply rooted in the House's heritage of creative inspiration.

Many of the collection's opulent interpretations of flora seamlessly capture the wonders of nature — sculpted into bejeweled statements of splendor that include those of the late master designer Jean Schlumberger. Wisterias, thistles, dandelions and orchids are reborn as transformational high jewelry.

Take a look at the numbers behind the jewel-encrusted BOTANICA creations:

90
The number of pieces that compose this new Blue Book Collection.
From sparkling earrings with mesmerizing gemstones to transformable designs where diamonds abound, the glittering jewels mirror lush flora that emerges across the land.

4
The number of botanical themes that constitute the BOTANICA collection: Dandelion, Orchid, Thistle and Jean Schlumberger®.

5
The number of looks this sumptuous platinum necklace can seamlessly transform into using two interchangeable pendant drops, a long-settle diamond choker and a long diamond chain necklace.

47
The number of carats of the spectacular cushion-cut aquamarine featured in this platinum and gold Tiffany & Co. Schlumberger® Fleurage bracelet.

2
The number of different scales this showstopping design was crafted in. One features round brilliant diamonds of over 3 total carats, draped by longer strands of round brilliant and rose-cut earring jackets. And a second features round brilliant diamonds of over 4 total carats, draped by shorter strands of rose-cut and round brilliant diamonds.

6
The number of notable gemstones in this collection: Fancy Intense Yellow diamond, blue sapphire, emerald, tourmaline, cushion-cut, unenhanced purple sapphire, Fancy Vivid Purpleish Pink diamond, unenhanced ruby and aquamarine.

1,000
The approximate number of hours it took for skilled artisans to delicately handcraft this remarkable necklace boasting

1,045
round brilliant diamonds.

1
The number of round Fancy Vivid Purpleish Pink diamonds in a brilliant platinum ring, complemented by mixed-cut diamonds.

35
The number of round spessartines punctuating the petals of a willow-inspired brooch.

329
The number of round rose-cut diamonds adorning this brooch set in platinum and 18-carat yellow gold.

58
The number of carats of the South Sea white pearl in this splendid necklace featuring custom-cut blue sapphires and mixed-cut diamonds.

