

Philippe Galtié is Executive Vice President of Tiffany & Co., Global Sales. He is responsible for all operations in the Americas, Europe and Middle East, Asia-Pacific and Japan regions as well as global oversight of store planning, retail sales operations and customer services.

He joined Tiffany in 2015, after a 15-year career at Cartier, where he served as international retail director. Prior roles include country head or other comparable senior positions in China, Korea, Southeast Asia and Japan. He previously served in general management and marketing at Moët-Hennessy, Mars Inc., Eridania Beghin Say and the Nestlé Group.

Philippe has a master of management from the École Supérieure de Commerce de Paris and participated in INSEAD's Advanced Management Program.